Reports to Stockholders at Annual Meetings Yesterday Very Satisfactory.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

New Governing Boards Chosen With a Remarkably Few Changes and No Deaths.

The second Tuesday and the second Thursday in January are favorite days with stockholders of banks and other financial institutions for holding their annual meetings. The custom is an old

The past twelve months have brough prosperity to the banks of Richmond, Few, if any, officers or directors have been lost by death. One national bank is engaged in erecting the tallest build-ing in the city, the ground floor of which it will have for its home. Another national bank has decided to erect this year a fire-proof structure for its exclusive use. The steel frames of the American National Bank building at Tenth and Main Streets, is the "chief attraction" in town, while the First Na-tional Bank will preserve its present classic front, and the fire-proof structure will be built to it.

The stockholders of the First National

HOW THE FLYERS

REACH DESTINATION

Of the three special trains that sped southward Monday night, inaugurating the tourist service to Florida of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Scuboard Line and the Southern, the first named arrived at Jacksonville the nearest on time. It was only two minutes behind the schedule when it reached Jacksonville and the prediction of those running the train was ruifilled. The train was late when it reached Richmond, but the time was made up.

up.
The Southern's train was thirty minutes late in reaching Jacksonville, and the Seaboard was seventy-five minutes behind.

ELIZA BAKER GOT TWENTY MONTHS

Professional Washwoman Had a Mania for Stealing Family Wash-Police Court.

Eliza Baker, a professional wash by Justice Crutchfield yesterday and put under security for twelve months.

by Justice Critichness yesteray and put under security for twelve months.

She was caught by Detectives Gibson and Wren, on specific charge of stealing the family wash of five different families. Her scheme was to take the wash home and never return, an old scheme of her's. Her record had already been made in this respect, and as each case was proved against her, the ominous sound of "four months" struck her ears. Hilton Venable, a well known character in police circles, and Alice Cooper, were charged with wounding Ike Irvine with a knife. It was shown the Cooper woman had nothing to do with the case, and she was dismissed, but the charge against Venable was continued to the 21st.

George Burkhardt, an alleged deserter from the navy, was arrested by Sergeant Balley, and was held to the 22d.

Joe Farloy, a small boy, was arrested for taking twenty-five cents' worth of coal from the Chesapeake and Ohio, and his mother was directed to while him.

A number of small cases and drunks were disposed of.
